I. General Information

Centenary College of Louisiana

In 1825, the College of Louisiana began offering liberal arts and pre-professional education to college students in the South. Twenty-three years later, in 1848, it merged with Centenary College, a Methodist institution in Clinton, Mississippi. In 1908, Centenary College of Louisiana moved to its present location in Shreveport.

For more than 190 years, Centenary College has stood for academic and professional excellence. Our graduates have gone on to high achievement in business and their professional lives, and our faculty members have distinguished themselves in teaching, research, and professional service.

Graduate business education came to Centenary in 1976. The MBA Program began in 1984. Enrollment in the program is limited, assuring a personalized education and maximum interaction among participants and our faculty.

Purpose

Centenary is a selective liberal arts college offering undergraduate programs and a limited number of graduate programs in the arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences, which strengthen the foundation for students' personal lives and career goals. Students and faculty work together to build a community focused on ethical and intellectual development, respect and concern for human and spiritual values, and the joy of creativity and discovery.

Consistent with its affiliation with the United Methodist Church, the College encourages a lifelong dedication not only to learning but also to serving others. It strives to overcome ignorance and intolerance; to examine ideas critically; to provide an understanding of the forces that have influenced the past, drive the present, and shape the future; and to cultivate integrity, intellectual and moral courage, responsibility, fairness, and compassion.

In pursuit of these ideals, the College challenges its students throughout their education to write and speak clearly; to read, listen, and think critically; to comprehend, interpret, and synthesize ideas; to analyze information qualitatively and quantitatively; to appreciate the diversity of human cultures; to respect the value of artistic expression; and to recognize the importance of a healthy mind and body and the interdependence of people and the environment.

Academic and co-curricular programs, as well as the example of those who teach and work at Centenary, support students in their development and encourage them to become leaders in the work place, the community, the nation, and the world at large.

II. Program Overview

Purpose of the MBA Program

Centenary College's Master of Business Administration (MBA) program aims to help bright, ambitious individuals achieve greater success in their management careers. We stress the key skills and critical business concepts that managers need to be effective in their jobs today and in the future. We also help each individual develop the confidence and insight required for accepting greater responsibility.

Our program is designed to heighten strategic thinking and to develop the entrepreneurial mindset that enables innovation within organizations. Our students become adept at recognizing an opportunity, marshalling the necessary resources, and executing the opportunity as a holistic plan: Strategy Defined—Innovation Applied.

We expect that our graduates will expand their leadership responsibilities, advance faster, and rise higher with the Centenary MBA degree.

We strive to provide students with a challenging, immediately applicable, and stimulating learning environment that will maximize their return on investment. After satisfactorily completing all coursework and program requirements, a student earns a MBA degree.

History of the Centenary MBA Program

The current MBA program at Centenary College began in the winter of 1984. The dean and faculty of the Frost School of Business designed a program to answer growing criticism that traditional MBA programs had become overly theoretical at the expense of practicality and career usefulness.

Faculty of the Frost School of Business met with foundation heads, business leaders, and management trainers in government and industry prior to designing the present program for experienced professionals. Since the first announcement of our Executive MBA program in November 1984, the response has been strong and enthusiastic.

Recently, the Frost School of Business faculty reviewed the curriculum for currency and relevancy and made a number of curricular changes.

Accreditation

Philosophy of Instruction

Centenary MBA courses concentrate on core concepts that have significant practical applications in today's organizations. Our courses are taught from a senior management perspective with an emphasis on the business skills and knowledge that enable a shift from functional expertise to broad-based leadership, strategic thinking, and a mindset for organizational innovation.

Courses are taught by full-time Centenary professors as well as highly qualified business executives who are currently active in developing new products, financing ventures, managing factories, and guiding personnel programs. Typically, class sizes are small, assuring a personalized and highly interactive learning environment.

Our program taps into the management and operating experience of each participant and then builds on that experience in the classroom. The Frost faculty is particularly adept at stimulating the exchange of ideas among our students. The applied orientation of our program facilitates immediate transfer of classroom learning back to the workplace while preparing our MBA candidates for the challenges each will face in the future.

Program Outcomes

At completion of the MBA, students will have developed a valuable skillset, including communication, critical thinking, and complex problem solving. Students will be prepared to analyze, design, and implement projects as an influential leader in their organization. Graduates of our in-class MBA will be able to perform the following:

- Critically assess business performance to strategically manage business opportunities in a dynamic context.
- Analyze organizational resources to enhance productivity, collaboration, and innovation.
- Integrate industry and discipline specific tools to the analysis of targeted business sectors and problems.
- Execute effective and ethically driven business decisions through the application of appropriate frameworks.

- Formulate and deliver appropriate verbal and written communications on business performance, requirements, and outcomes.

Academic Workload

Centenary MBA courses are intense and demanding. Most students take one to two courses per term. In a typical week, students may expect to spend approximately eight hours outside of class preparing for each class session. Students who know in advance that they will have to miss more than one class meeting should not enroll for that term.

III. Admission

Admission to the MBA program is contingent upon the applicant having a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution with a grade performance indicating probable success at the graduate level. In addition, performance on the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) is used in evaluating an applicant.

Full Admission

The following minimum criteria must be met in order to be considered for admission to the MBA program:

1. A four-year bachelor's degree from an accredited institution.
2. Approval from the Dean of the Frost School of Business.
3. An undergraduate GPA and GMAT score that indicate probable success at the graduate level.
4. Related professional experience.
5. Completion of an application form to include recommendation, interview, and essay.
6. Completion of undergraduate prerequisites (if required).

Undergraduate Prerequisites

Basic undergraduate preparation in Business Administration is a requirement for taking graduate level courses leading to an MBA. A student with a bachelor of business degree or its equivalent normally will have completed the basic courses needed. A student whose undergraduate degree is in another discipline can meet these requirements by completing two additional courses that may be taken in the classroom or online at Centenary:

- MBA 507: Principles of Microeconomics (3 hours)
- MBA 508: Principles of Macroeconomics (3 hours)

As an alternative, a student can demonstrate proficiency in the above areas on an approved test, such as the CLEP test. A student must earn a "C" or better in all prerequisites. The Dean may require that a student repeat certain prerequisite courses taken as an undergraduate. A student will not be admitted to candidacy for the MBA prior to having completed these prerequisites. Courses may not be taken for graduate credit without the proper prerequisite for that course. Students may take up to six (6) credits of graduate work while completing the undergraduate prerequisites. These courses are not part of the core requirements for an MBA.

V. Academic Policies

Academic Calendar

The MBA Program utilizes a unique calendar. Whereas most programs have two or three terms, the Centenary program has five 10-week terms per year. This calendar allows students to accelerate their studies and complete the curriculum in a one year period.

Registration

Registration takes place over the phone or by email. Students call in their course preferences to the Frost School of Business MBA coordinator at 318.869.5141 or send an email to the MBA coordinator during the registration period. A bulletin of course offerings will be mailed to students two weeks prior to registration.

Academic Advising

The faculty and MBA coordinator of the Frost School of Business advise students in the planning of their academic programs.

Degree Requirements for the MBA

The MBA Program consists of a pre-established curriculum of 10 three-hour courses and three hours of a project/thesis (30 total hours). There are no electives.

Students must complete 30 total hours of required academic work and earn a 3.0 ('B' average) to receive their MBA.

The degree must be completed within seven calendar years after commencing the program.

Grades

The grading scale for MBA candidates is:

- A - Excellent
- B - Good
- C - Average
- D - Poor
- F - Failing
- I/IR - Incomplete
- W - Withdrawal

The grade of 'I' or 'IR' will automatically become an 'F' if not completed within three terms.

Due to the Federal Privacy Act, the Frost School of Business office cannot inform students of their grades in person. Students may view their grade information via the Centenary College Bannerweb. No grades will be given out over the telephone.

Probation and Dismissal

Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 3.0 (B average) will be placed on probation.

Students will be notified in writing of their probationary status. Students must achieve a 3.0 grade point average in order to continue in the program. Students earning a C grade or lower in any class, while they are on probation, will be dismissed from the program.

Repeating Courses

MBA students may repeat courses in which a C or below was earned. The higher grade will be used in calculating the student's standing in the program; however, both the old and the new grades will appear on the transcript.

This policy is in harmony with our coaching philosophy of education. We believe all of our students are capable of high performance. Some need more time and coaching than others.

Withdrawal and Refund Policy

MBA students are not charged a fee for dropping classes. During the first two weeks of a module, courses may be dropped without penalty by calling the MBA coordinator at 318.869.5141 and notifying the professor. After the first two weeks, classes may be dropped only by sending the dean a written letter of request to drop.

The student who drops a class after the first two-week grace period will be required to pay full tuition cost.

Credit by Transfer of Course Work

A maximum of six credit hours may be transferred from other accredited graduate programs into the Centenary MBA program. Credit will be accepted only when a grade of B or higher has been earned and the course was completed during the six-year period prior to enrollment in the Centenary MBA program.

Students must satisfy the following in order to graduate:

1. Completion of all required course work.
2. Submission of approved entrepreneurial project (one copy and flash drive).

March 31 is the last date to complete oral presentations of projects.

April 5 is the last date to turn in a flash drive of the project and one final, bound copy with signatures to the office of the dean.

3. Minimum of 3.0 grade point average.
4. No outstanding college bills.

Academic Honesty

Honesty, trustworthiness, and respect for others are core values held by the Centenary College community. As members of this community, students enrolled in graduate coursework at Centenary shall neither commit nor tolerate cheating, plagiarism, or other forms of academic dishonesty. While it is the responsibility of faculty to explain what constitutes academic dishonesty within the particular requirements of their courses, academic dishonesty is generally defined as the representation of another's work as one's own, a violation of testing conditions, or complicity in such acts.

Centenary College follows the following procedure for all cases

MBA Program

Frost School of Business

Centenary
College
of Louisiana

in which a student enrolled in graduate coursework is suspected of academic dishonesty:

1. The instructor, observing or becoming aware of an apparent incident of academic dishonesty, informs the student of the infraction as expeditiously as possible. The instructor may take whatever academic punitive action he/she may deem appropriate, up to and including a grade of F in the course and removal from the classroom. The instructor must inform the chair and/or dean of the department/school by letter of the infraction and the instructor-imposed penalty. The chair/dean determines whether additional academic punitive action is appropriate. Via certified mail (with a copy sent by regular mail), the chair/dean must inform the student of the actions taken and the student's right to appeal the decision to the Graduate Council. Proof of mailing will be sufficient to prove notice in the event that the recipient refuses to sign for or accept the letter. Should the student wish to appeal, he/she must make a written appeal within one week of this notification by delivering a written appeal to the chair/dean. The chair/dean will then forward the appeal to the chair of the Graduate Council.
2. If the accused student appeals the instructor's action, the Graduate Council takes testimony from the instructor, the student, and all appropriate witnesses including those designated by the student. In the event of a finding of guilt, the ruling is final; however, the Graduate Council may modify the penalty. Should the student be found innocent, the instructor must re-evaluate the work in question and not penalize the student for the alleged violation.

Grade Appeal Policy

1. It is the policy of Centenary College that students are responsible for fulfilling prescribed course objectives, completing stated course assignments, and adhering to stated academic standards for each course in which they are enrolled. If an instructor has evaluated a graduate candidate in a professionally accepted manner, an academic appeal is not warranted. Also, an appeal is an inappropriate recourse for questions of professional competence or academic freedoms. Only charges of arbitrariness, capriciousness, and prejudice are subject to academic appeal.
2. Based on these principles, issues eligible for appeal involve computational errors, application of course rules, adherence to syllabi, consistency and communication of evaluation standards, and expressed bias.

MBA Program

Frost School of Business

Centenary
College
of Louisiana

3. Graduate candidates who believe that their final grade reflects an arbitrary or capricious academic evaluation or reflects discrimination based on race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, or disability may employ the following procedures to seek modification of such an evaluation:
 - a. If a graduate candidate receives a final grade in a course which he/she believes is unfair, the candidate should first contact the faculty member involved prior to the end of the drop/add period of the next academic term.
 - b. If the candidate complaint is not resolved, the candidate may appeal his/her grade to the department chair. It is the candidate's responsibility to provide a written statement of the specific grievance with all relevant documentation (syllabus, guidelines for papers, presentations, etc.) attached.
 - c. If the department chair is unable to resolve the grade appeal to the satisfaction of the candidate and the faculty member involved, or the faculty member involved is the department chair, then a written appeal prepared by the candidate with all relevant documentation may be made to the provost and dean of the College. The provost and dean of the College will make the final decision in terms of resolution of the appeal.
 - d. All parties to the grade appeal process are to maintain strict confidentiality until the matter is resolved.

All policies of Centenary College apply to both undergraduate and graduate students, unless specifically noted in this catalog.
