

NOMINATION FOR DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

The Department of _____ has reviewed the request of _____ for Departmental Honors and has determined that this person is eligible for candidacy for these honors.

Honors programs may include opportunities for independent study with an accompanying paper, a substantial research report, or, in the case of honors work in the arts, a project as decided by each individual department. All students working toward departmental honors are required to present an independent study paper, research report, or project at the Student Research Forum or at departmental approved program. In order to be considered for departmental honors, a student must first be approved by the department. A student must arrange for a committee of at least two faculty members, one of whom must be from outside the major, to oversee and approve the project plan, topic, schedule of activities and anticipated presentation results.

Eligibility for Candidacy: A student must have 3.25 in the major and 3.25 cumulative GPA and must have attained junior standing (60 earned hours) at the time of admission to the program with more than half of the work done in residence at Centenary. A student must spend a minimum of two semesters in the program and maintain at least a 3.25 in both major and non-major courses. Therefore, students must apply for departmental honors prior to the senior year.
