Job Title:

K-12 Teaching and Coaching Jobs at Private/Independent Schools

Job Description:

How will your work after college impact others? Do you want to be a change-maker? Do you enjoy working with children and teenagers? Do you want to change the future? Southern Teachers can help!

ST helps schools hire teachers and coaches with degrees in wide-ranging academic majors: math, literature, science, history, engineering, world languages, technology, and more. ST lists over 3000 openings each year at about 600 independent schools in the South—day, boarding, single sex, coed, rural, urban, nonsectarian, and faith-based.

ST's services are personal, proven, and free!

We have positions beginning year-round. Apply to become a Southern Teachers candidate as soon as you can! And be sure to save the date for the Southern Teachers Job Fair on Saturday, February 2 in Charlotte, NC. This fair is for active candidates only, so apply to become a candidate today!

Qualifications:

For middle and high school positions, schools focus on candidates' degrees in applicable subject areas. State licensure/certification can be a plus, but it's not a requirement.

Specific training is expected in some areas, however:

- Elementary-grade teachers and learning specialists must hold state licensure.
- Certification is preferred for art, physical education, and music teacher positions.
- Librarians and media specialists must hold an MLS or comparable degrees.
- School counselors must hold advanced degrees in counselor education.

Application Instructions:

Go to SouthernTeachers.com and submit the online application, your resume, and a cover letter.
